Margaret,
Hi!
So a cute little rebel,
Stay as cute as you are,
And you'll go far! (HAY, IT RHYMES)
Anyway, I hope will be friends a long time cuz you've got a confused mind & it's fun to comprehend you!
Aren't I the scientist?!

Love ya,
Debby McIntyre

MARGARET,
It's been a lot of fun knowing you this year.
I hope I'll see you this summer. Have a real great time and lots of luck next year.
- CHRIS Jordan

Margaret,
Last year it was me & my problem but looks like you had your share of 'em this year. And oh, what a year it was. Next year we'll go up a step and become JUNIORS instead of lowly sophs.

Margaret, you've been a great friend and I hope we'll continue to be good friends always. Stay sweet like you are and don't ever change (well not much anyway)
Be good and DRIVE CAREFULLY!
Hope I'll see you a lot this summer.

May God Bless You
Love Always
Sandy Overcash

Margaret,
We didn't have a chance to talk to you before you left. I hope you had a great year.
I hope you will be a great junior.
I hope you
will be a great friend.
I hope you
will be a great person.
I hope you
will be a great everything.
I hope you
will be a great Margaret.

To witness the cold, dull quiet of a night on her campus, to know the silence of South when the noise of yesterday has gone and the voices of tomorrow have yet to come—this is the South that her students never know.

Doug Maxwell

"And that Norman girl, who's a sophomore..."

When she awakes on a September morning is the time she truly comes to life and with her come alive—

The Sounds of South

For sophomores there are new sounds, sounds from which to learn and experience as a part of maturing;
 For juniors there are the sounds of scholarship past and wisdom that is yet to come;
 For seniors a mingling of joy and sorrow will sound in every cherished note and tone played by South in this last year, for it was here within her walls, that the foundation was laid for a life possessing wisdom, happiness, and integrity.

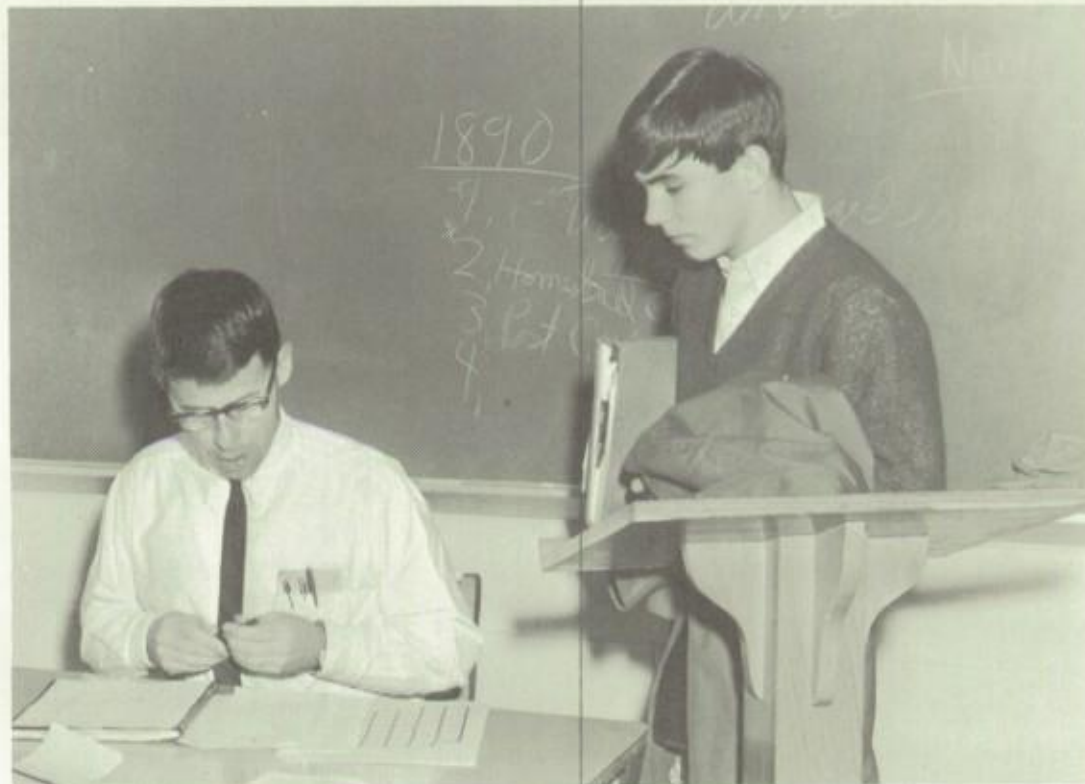

For all her students there are the unheard, or at least unnoticed, hammerings and moldings that are the sounds of education sculpting today's youth into tomorrow's leaders.

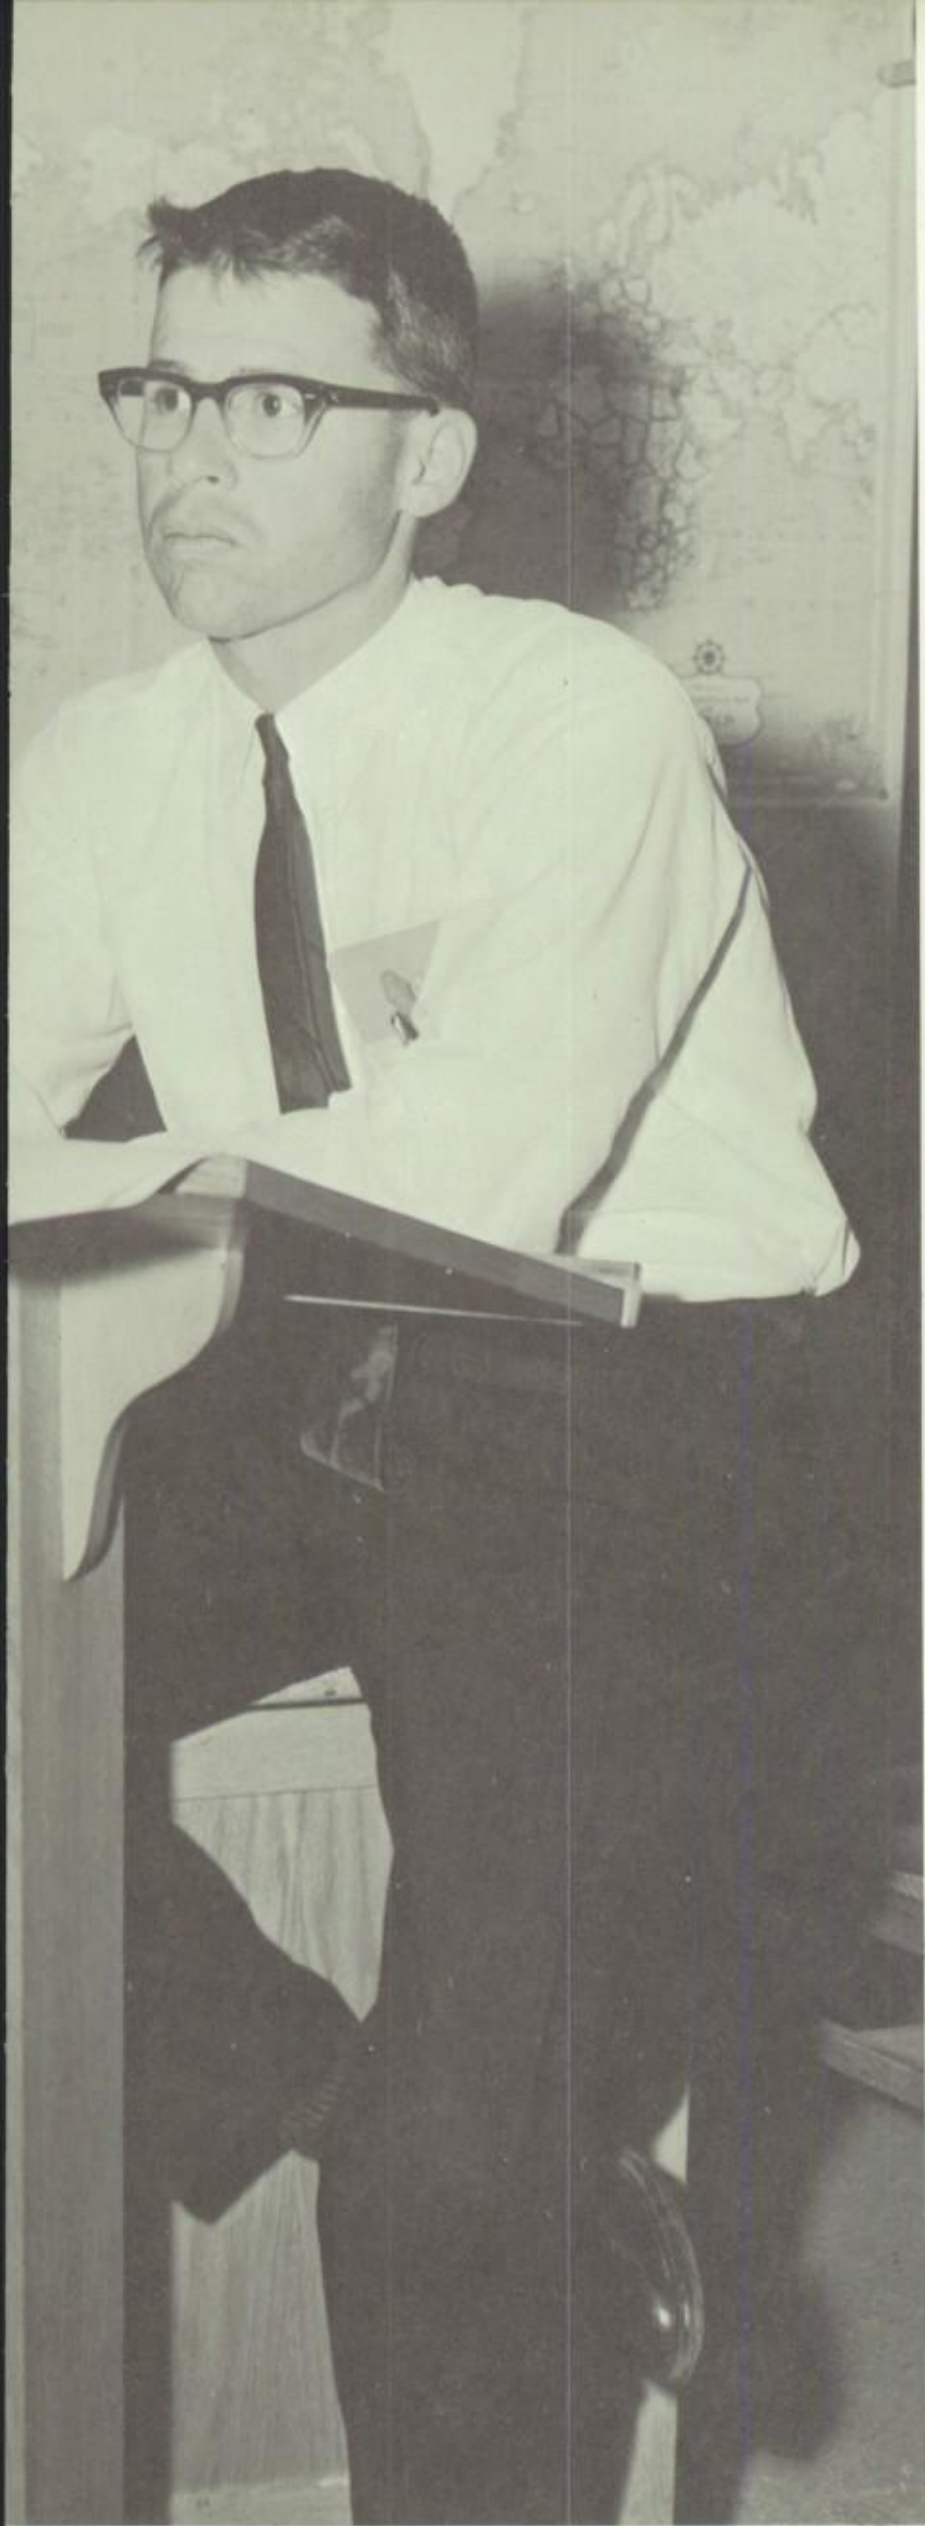

Dedication

Always leading the anxious wave of sideline supporters, Coach Patten looks on at the Garinger game.

Mr. Patten never fails to find time in his busy schedule for personal consultation with a student.

Mr. Patten is just as dedicated in either domain.

For once Coach Patten gets to leave for home before sundown.

He has devoted immeasurable time and boundless energy to the endeavors of our school. By giving his pupils a valuable knowledge of history, he has truly earned the title of teacher. He has shown a quiet but genuine interest in all his students, given respect to every deserving person while earning our deep respect. He has molded a football team of whose accomplishments South can be very proud; but more important, he has instilled in us a sportsmanlike integrity and a modest pride that we hope is reflected in us all. In return, we, the Class of 1968, do gratefully dedicate this year's Somecka to this man who has given us so much, Mr. Robert Patten.

Activities

Honor Council convenes to enforce honor code regulations.

School store is often a focal point of student activity in the morning.

The student council took on a new outlook this year with many noticeable changes. Activity within the council was led by President Gary Williams and the advisor, Mrs. Betty Smith. Other officers were Vice-President Skeet Harris, Secretary Betty Blanton, and Treasurer Janice Alberto.

Business of the year included discussion of campaign procedures during school elections and the buying of the school store by the student council, with this year's council making the first down payment. An inter-club council headed by the vice-president of the student council was suggested in order to coordinate actions between the school service clubs. Stewart Fisher was selected to be the first representative to the Mayor's Youth Council, and a plan by the Youth Council to beautify Charlotte was accepted favorably by a student council whose statewide theme this year was beautification in North Carolina. The student council sponsored the annual Christmas dance and managed to profit $60. Even though the council succeeded at such deserving projects, their primary aim was, as always, effective communication between students and administration.

NHS promotes pride in scholastic endeavor

Besides scholarship, the qualities of leadership, character, and a willingness to serve are necessary possessions of the future inductee in the National Honor Society. However, induction is not the ultimate goal of a new member; service soon becomes the aim. The society becomes a true asset to South, with a concerted effort to promote pride in scholastic endeavor and in our school.

At fall inductions four distinguished members of the society, Paula Lombardi, Margaret Nelson, Becky Pickle, and Jeff Langley, gave speeches concerning the standard attributes of Honor Society inductees - scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The new members quickly became acquainted with their fellow scholars at the November NHS banquet and then immediately tackled the responsibility that honor carries. Tutoring, compiling and selling student directories, and selling football programs were among their many tasks in addition to being commissioned to keep South's campus clean. Spring brought the duties to a climax and replaced them with the fellowship of the annual picnic at Freedom Park.

The National Honor Society has given its members much more than the honor of wearing an NHS emblem at graduation - it has yielded mature and responsible adults.

Proficient Spanish comes for some at South

Jenny Franks and Donna Spoor plan March inductions with Mrs. Ware.

Library's language room responds to Project Committee's bright decorations

Students often find it difficult to maintain above average grades in English, much less keep a 92 average in Spanish for three semesters, but twenty-eight students have earned the necessary grade and have been inducted into the Spanish Honor Society. Each March brings with its inductions a few more select members to study the heritage of Spain, and fourth year Spanish classes contribute honorary members who are recognized for their perseverance. Besides studying the society, members decorated the library's language room, raised a small, but sincere, donation to help finance Peruvian Maria de Rojas' leg operation; even found time to have a banquet in February.

This year Les Provencaux has tried to give each member an insight into the everyday life of the French people. Steve Graham, a student who lived in France this past summer, was the first speaker. He answered questions about French opinions of the United States, living conditions in France, and different French customs. M. Claude De Four, the second guest speaker, also spoke on different aspects of French life as compared with those in America. These, along with other speakers, planned programs, films and socials, supplemented ideas learned in class.

The club officers smile - with a French accent, of course.

Before monthly meetings members usually find time to converse in French.

Latin Club scrutinizes Roman heritage

Susan Millbern considers plans for next program.

Mrs. Mays and student consult dictionary to settle moot point.

The Latin Club has been organized for the purpose of giving interested South students a way to learn more about Latin and the Roman culture. This goal is accomplished through monthly meetings at which speakers encourage the students in their studies by speeches and slides describing Ancient Rome. Faithful attendance at the annual state convention held in Chapel Hill and at South's Latin Banquet shows the enjoyment members gain from their participation.

Fatigue overtakes our illustrious editor but Becky keeps on pushing.

Time and energy build a better Somecka

The 1968 Somecka staff has made a concentrated effort to produce South's finest Somecka. Mrs. Gillis and Mrs. Morris, the staff advisors, see that the seventh period journalism II class has worked diligently to continually meet its monthly deadlines. Producing a good yearbook takes a great deal of time and effort. Quite often much more time was needed than the allotted one hour a day, but the staff did not mind giving the extra hours because they knew that they were producing a "super Somecka".

Under the experienced guidance of Cathy Slesinger and Mrs. Talley, the Somecka business staff has continued its part to the production of the 1968 Somecka. The business staff was responsible for selling approximately $1000.00 in advertisements. These ads were sold during one school day and many sacrificed afternoons.

Much discussion, besides hard work, goes into each issue of the Southern Accent.

Southern Accent journalists produce an outstanding student publication

This year The Southern Accent has reached a new high in presenting an interesting newspaper for South's student body. The periodical's increased coverage is partially due to the homeroom and roving reporters. The staff no longer operates on a fully specialized basis, but has pooled its resourceful members for a common and more effective effort. These same ambitious staff members ran a general store at the Pancake Breakfast, selling home-baked goods, Christmas decorations, and novelties. With the close cooperation between Jody Emrie, the editor, and Mrs. Ann Baker, the advisor, the staff of 1967-68 developed a precedence for excellence.

Key Club forms integral part of service picture

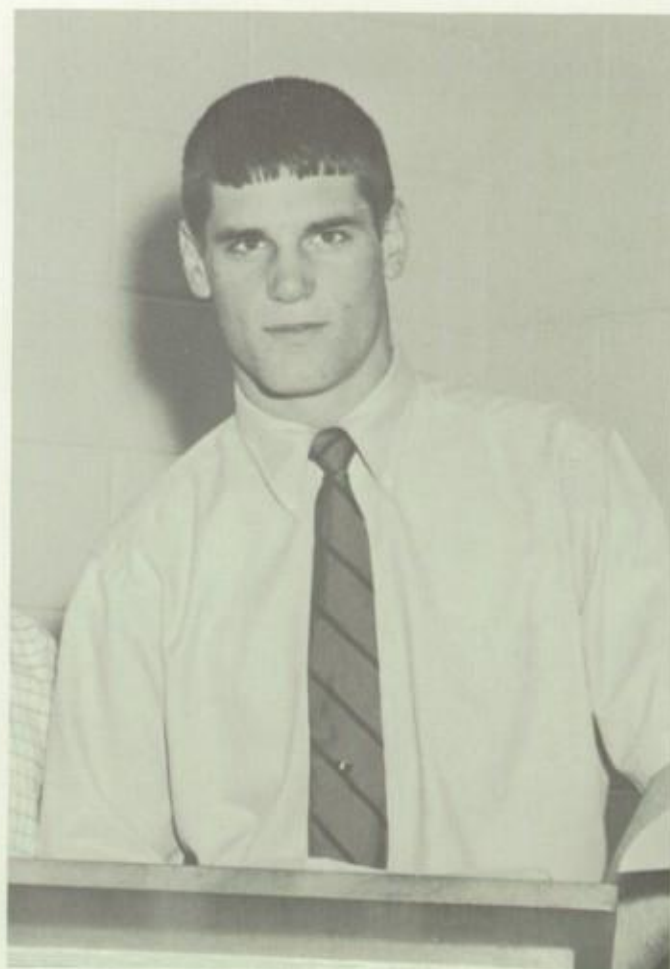

Being a member of the Key Club is a full-time occupation. During the week the boys in the Key Club are busy selling Sabre license plates and South Mecklenburg car stickers, and during the weekend they are occupied by various service projects. The Key Club has adopted a Viet Nam orphan and are learning how to be fathers. However, despite the Key Club's busy schedule, they often take time out on Sundays to attend church together, constantly epitomizing South's ideal man.

Interkeys define service

Not only South, but also our whole community, has benefited from the Interkeys. They served South by cleaning the patio, polishing South's many trophies, acting as guides during orientation, decorating the student lounge during Christmas, and co-sponsoring the Heart Beat (the Valentine Dance). The Interkeys served the community by acting as ushers at Summer Theater, and collecting four carloads of food, toys, and clothing for a Charlotte family. All these activities are consistent proof that the girls are truly dedicated to conquering apathy.

The Interkey motto, in B-building, served as a constant inspiration to our students.

Happiness was Fractured Fairytales as told by Interkeys.

Initiative is the byword

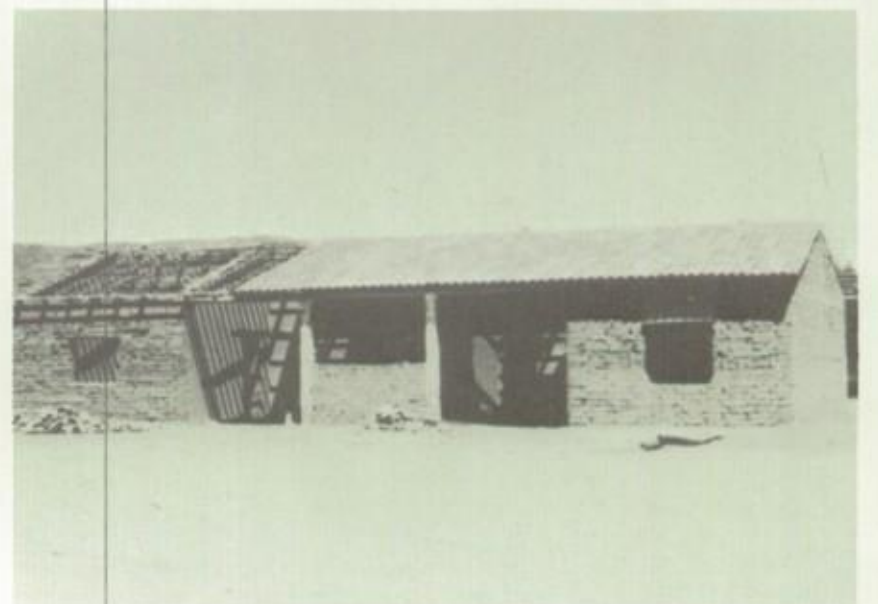

Interact officers are momentarily still before moving to another service project.

Dirk Bittinger concentrates on selling Scott Pugh a UNICEF calendar.

Interact is, as always, a prominent part of South's service organizations. Under the leadership of their president, Ted Troutman, this enthusiastic group of boys has served from Bolivia to the mountains of N. C. Their projects included the financing of a school in Bolivia, the annual selling of Christmas cards for UNICEF, and a Valentine Dance, a joint effort of Interkeys and Interact Clubs. All of their profits were contributed to worthy causes.

S.O.S. officers package items for G.I.'s.

Sabres Out to Serve is a selective club which was started this year. It is sponsored by the Red Cross and has projects to help the Red Cross in essential aid to others. During Christmas the S.O.S. members campaigned for necessary items our servicemen lack. The overwhelming interest the project received will certainly prove to be only the beginning of a very useful service club.

Initiating possible community service projects fills a large part of the agenda at S. O. S. meetings.

Nothing can stimulate a team to win or inspire a restless crowd to endure a cold halftime as well as a South Mecklenburg High School Marching Band. Besides inspiring Sabres, the band delighted crowds at the Carrousel Parade with its sophisticated formations. A pancake breakfast for South's voracious supporters raised four hundred dollars for the purchase of some ornamental plumes. Under the outstanding direction of Mr. Rayfield Neel, the band once again enjoyed an active and profitable year.

Under the direction of Mr. McNeely, the curriculum provides an excellent foundation in the musical fine arts for our orchestra students. About Christmas time the rest of the student body enjoys the chance to appreciate the well-performed works of these deserving musicians. The select personnel of this exceptional department comprise the South Men, Teen Tones, and the Girls' Ensemble, three groups extremely popular with the students (due primarily to an excellent Christmas program and the performances at the Festival in the Park).

Cheerleaders enliven an eventful year

Nine girls in the traditional red and white uniforms, well supplied with pep and vitality, have devoted full time to the often thankless job of cheerleading. Through their hard work, loyalty, and enthusiasm, they have boosted the school spirit at South and sparked the Sabres on to victory.

The time-consuming responsibilities of the cheerleaders began in the summer and are continued throughout the year: painting posters, innovating cheers, practicing old ones, making announcements, sponsoring Spirit Week, and planning ingenious pep rallies are included in their many activities.

Under the leadership of the co-heads, Aleanne Faires and Melanie Merriam, the cheerleaders have not only cheered our team to victory, but also devoted their time to other facets of service at South.

High-stepping Sabres set lively tempo

It was a common, but inspiring, sight when seven lettergirls, decked in red and white, with pom-poms to match, charged onto the field at half-time, leading our outstanding band. The girls' monograms spelled SABRES, while their enthusiasm denoted true spirit. Constant and determined practice was required to perfect their intricate routines, but in addition to marching with the band, they served as a vibrant cheering section at varsity basketball games. All efforts were rewarded with an exceptional year for our lettergirls.

Sabrettes are a welcome change of pace at basketball games.

South's majorettes, the Sabrettes, added much to South's marching band by their fine showing at the half-time shows at football games. The Sabrettes also performed at home basketball games and regional tournaments. The Sabrettes' near-excellence was achieved by practices beginning last June and the expert guidance of co-heads Nancy Wean and Kerry Kille.

This year the girls were permitted to cheer for a varsity sport, soccer, for the first time. The J.V. cheerleaders have successfully boosted the spirit of the team and spectators alike.

G.A.A. coordinates mental and physical activity

Exercise from sports like field hockey keeps the girls in shape.

The emphasis this year for the G.A.A. is definitely on strengthening the club, and with the call for interested recruits, came a sizable increase in membership. The newcomers were soon informed of the group's fundamental objective, that is, developing a friendly competitive spirit through athletics. Their sportsmanship is carried over into the other aspects of school life through service functions such as selling T-shirts and sweatshirts. Determination is the key to success that makes the Girls' Athletic Association a prominent part of South's activities.

Shay Helms, president of the G.A.A., discusses the addition of a feminine touch to athletics.

3:25 approaching, Donna McCormick anticipates the arrival of her familiar throng of passengers.

Despite the constant increase of auto accidents each year, South Mecklenburg bus drivers have consistently turned in outstanding records of safe and courteous driving. In addition, they carefully operate on a punctual schedule to eliminate all possible inconvenience for their passengers. The drivers have accepted a big responsibility and should be admired for the conscientious way in which they have performed. Mr. Emerson, the school's bus system director, can be justly proud of the 1967-68 staff of the Bus Drivers' Club, for it is a true service club in that they provide a necessary service every school day - rain or shine:

Future looks bright for Sabre artists

These girls' creativity doesn't seem hampered in the least by their ever present chattering.

South's many students skilled in the diverse mediums of art formed this year's Art Club. The organization has fostered creativity and promoted, through exhibits, an appreciation of their art. The Art Club is fortunate to be advised by Mr. Robert Allen, one of the most skilled and knowledgeable of North Carolina's art teachers.

Today's F.H.A. forms tomorrow's housewives

Future homemakers enjoy staying abreast of the fashions, periodically producing an up-to-date display.

The FHA is an influential institution fostering the creative homemakers of tomorrow. At monthly meetings the girls learn the art of being a successful lady of the house and a satisfying wife. Speakers often add to the ideas that the girls will employ in future life. Personal achievements are highlighted in work toward chapter and state awards. A state convention is held in Raleigh to reward the girls' ambition, and with this yearly meeting comes a correlation of statewide ideas.

Future teachers can explore the aspects of their upcoming career by being a member of the Future Teachers of America. Beginning this year by attending a convention in Raleigh at N.C. State University, the girls became more familiar with teaching as a vocation. During the spring the girls showed their appreciation of the teachers with a complimentary tea.

The Business Club has enjoyed a rush of informative speakers this year — the home economics teacher spoke about dress and its relation to business; a cosmetic representative showed a film and spoke of the glowing future of cosmetology; and Miss Mecklenburg reported on various business colleges in an attempt to acquaint members with business opportunities. Interesting guest speakers and extracurricular projects provide an extra familiarity with business practices.

By incorporating academic study with job opportunities, the Distributive Education Club introduces its members to the world of business. Job application, advertising and salesmanship are studied in D.E. Under the leadership of the officers, students discuss economics, business psychology, and public speaking. Refined tastes find a place in activities

To make the illiterate and not-so-literate students at South knowledgeable and cultured readers is the goal of the Good Books Club. This purpose is achieved at monthly meetings as they discuss the great works of literature. By discussing the books the club members develop an insight into the fine arts. As well as enriching its members, it promotes a well-read student body by operating a bookstore.

South's new interest in an old game led to the organization of the Chess Club this October. Although the scores may not indicate it, the members show good potential accompanied by a determination to win.

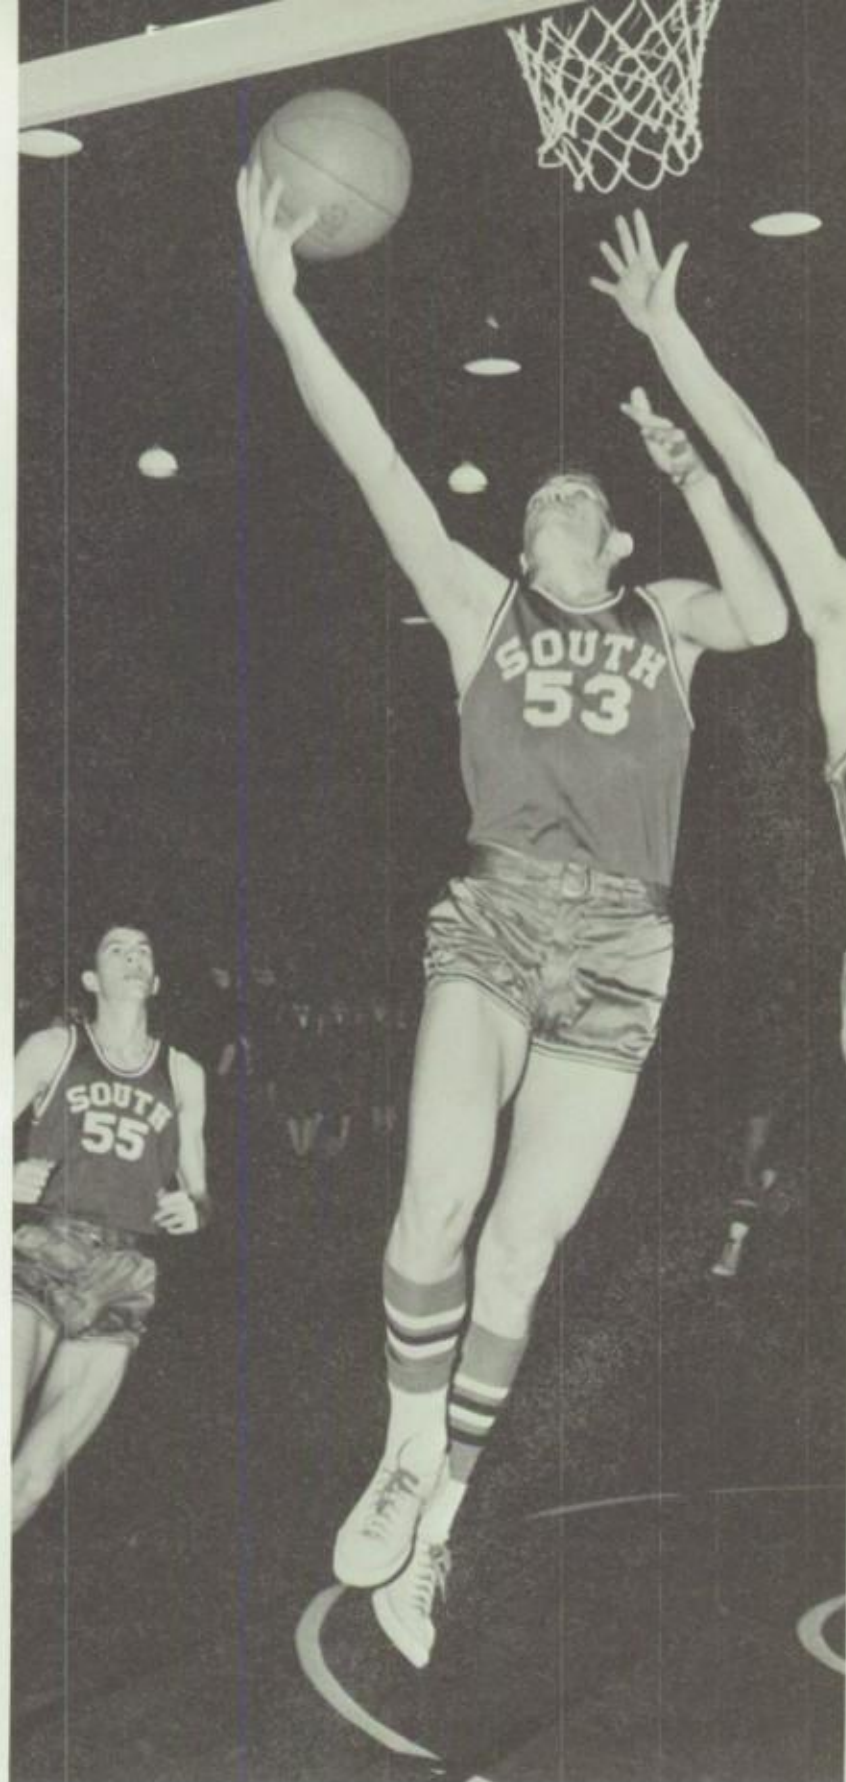

Perhaps next year's more experienced members will climb from last place. The new Chess Club was headed by Doug Agnew, president; Don Rogers, vice-president; and Steve Buntin, secretary-treasurer.

The hiss of hot showers, the crunch of harsh contact, the muffled rustle of papers as forty young men commit to memory countless intricate plays, all these sounds have been very familiar to South Sabres, but happily, most familiar was the joyous shouting of victory. There was almost never the quiet shuffle of dejected feet or the silent pursing of lips in the renewed determination that comes with defeat.

And Sabre fans enjoyed many a sore throat giving South football players the encouraging sounds that followed to the state championship.

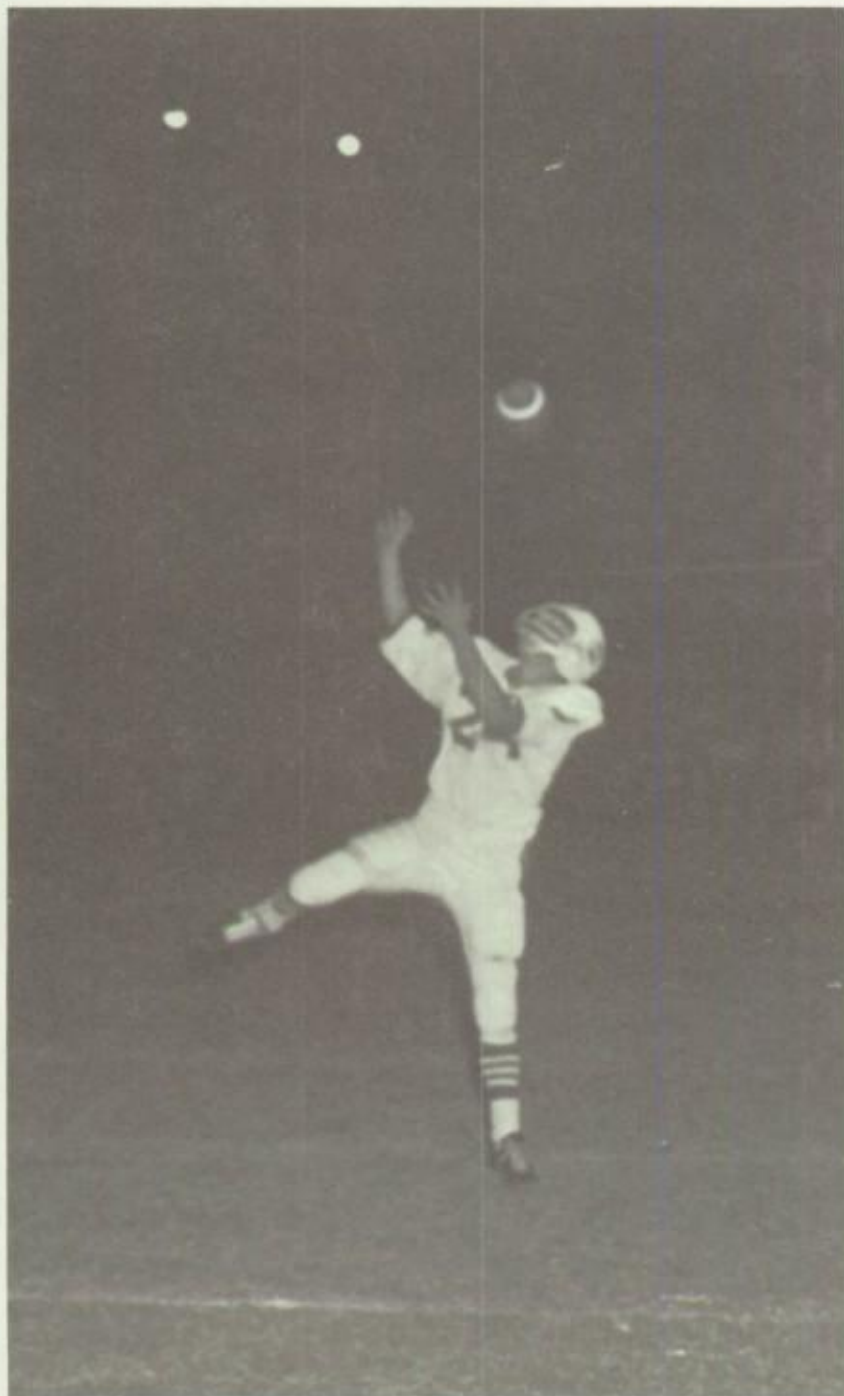

With only one tie and a single defeat in the regular season, the squad fought its way to the finals to sadly fall to Wilson.

We can truthfully say the 1967-68 Sabres have established a tradition that will warrant the student's support for years to come.

Soccer team kicks off first varsity season

Standing: Coach Dennis Baldwin, Don Fisher, Mgr.; Tim Wilhelm, Vernon O'Daniel, Robert Brown, Daryl Graham, Craig MacDonald, Manny Taylor, Gene Hefner, Keith Olive, Ed Fowler, Paul Mariette, Jamie Delantonas, Mgr.; Kneeling: Tom Reider, Elmer Hilker, Jae Walden, James

The 1967-68 soccer team kicked off its first varsity year with an outstanding 7-4-1 seasonal record. With the expert coaching of a former Soccer All-American, Denny Baldwin, the team has started a fine tradition for future soccer squads. Another reason for the successful year was South's Norwegian exchange student, Bjorn Berggrav, who scored twenty-five of the team's forty-five goals. Most all games lost were very close contests including the sectional tournament, but next year experience may turn these into wins, earning South its rightful place in the sport.

Co-captains Tommy Mole and Rick Elkins show their form.

Under the expert guidance of Coach Denny Baldwin, the South cross country team made a startling comeback from last year's thirteenth place finish in the state meet. Losing only to a strong Myers Park team, the Sabres completed the regular season with a record of 23-1, better than that of any previous South team. After placing second in the conference meet and third in the sectional meet, the Harriers went to Chapel Hill and captured an easy fifth place finish.

The captain and lone senior on the team, Tommy Mole, and junior co-captain Rick Elkins, along with David Rey, Gary Stroud, and Mark Johnson carried the squad through the eight-week season. In a five-school meet at Olympic all five runners placed in the top eight finishers. With the loss of only one senior and the constantly improving running of Rick Elkins, the cross country men should be an even stronger team next season.

From a nearly disastrous season last year, the varsity basketball team has risen to a winning season in '68. Led by senior co-captains Kirby Jones and Tom Wicker, this year's Sabres have acquired a reputation for aggressive play and great team co-operation and spirit. In addition to Jones and Wicker, the starting five consisted of seniors Mike Vaden and Andy Ramey along with the 6'6" sophomore Bobby Jones. Ramey was the most improved player this year coming back strong from a knee injury last year. Hitting from the inside and rebounding aggressively Ramey and Bobby Jones accounted for several crucial wins. But all the power was not under the boards, guards Mike Vaden and Kirby Jones hit consistently from the outside with Jones ending his three year career at South in a 40 point output against Independence.

Grapplers climb toward improvement.

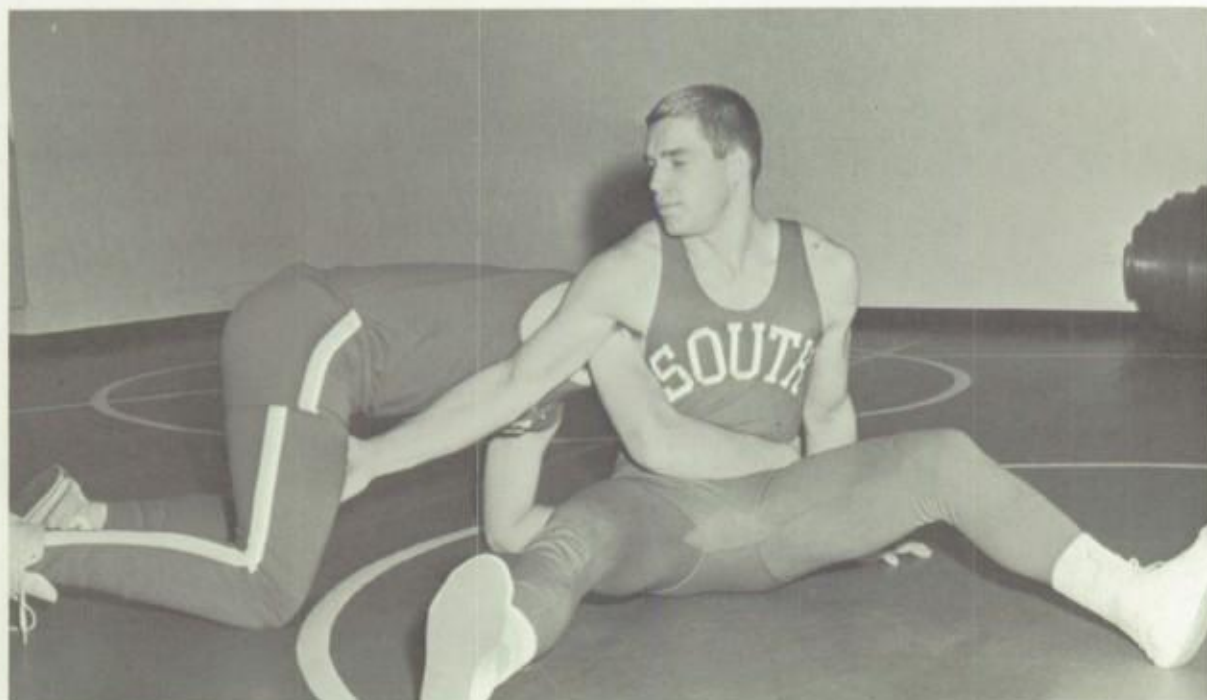

The wrestling team's meager 3-7 record is hardly representative of its true ability. The grapplers put forth immeasurable effort in preparation: climbing ropes, lifting weights, slaving for hours at back-breaking exercises, in addition to the wrestler's constant problem—dieting to keep within tight weight limits. The boys were coached by Mr. Patten and led through their paces by senior co-captains Bob Zachary and Joe Baker. They worked hard, but the victories they deserved seldom crystallized. The season had its moments though - - 210 pound junior Robert Hoppe pinned a 285 pound Harding wrestler. Judging from Robert's outstanding 8-2 record, we can expect a lot from him next year. Co-captain Joe Baker turned in a fine year, too, leading the team with a 7-1-1 record. In one match Joe pinned his Hunter Huss opponent in an amazing time of 13 seconds. Having only three seniors, Tommy Lowery and the co-captains, the team is young and will hopefully rebound, with new experience, to a fine year in 1969.

Baseball team rebuilding, expects good season anyway

Even though Coach Boger lost many players from last year, he is expecting a good season for the baseball team. Seniors Tom Van Dyke, Trippy Washburn, Richie Tatum, Pat Banks, and Mike Vaden are returning to play along side excellent junior prospects Skeet Harris, Mike Clark, Ray Peck, Sam Gianopulos, Wes Hege, and Bruce Fernie. These boys should add a great deal to this year's team as well as next year's.

Track team runs for record season

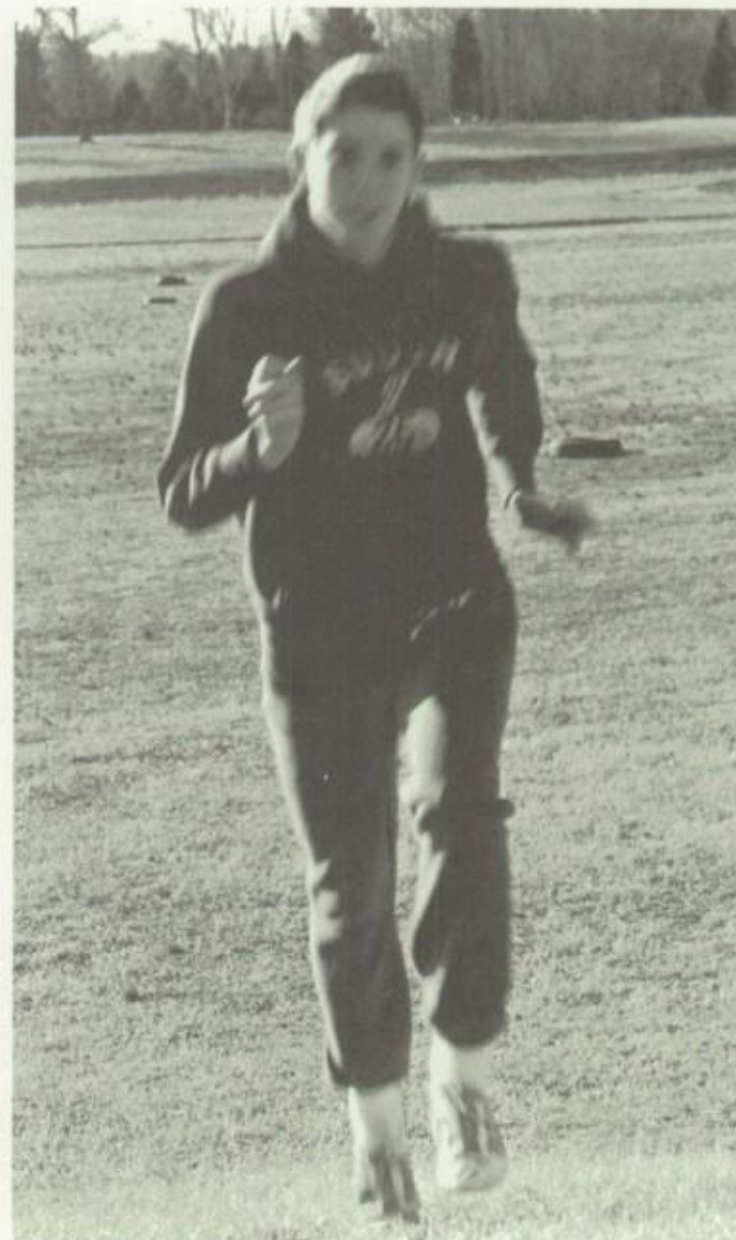

The '67-'68 squad plans on running down the opposition.

Hurdlers Robert Jones and Steve Koob stretch their muscles.

Last year's track team, with a record comparable to the best South has ever had, has many juniors who are returning as seniors to carry much of the load in 1968. An assault on the 440 record will come from David Shockley and Alan Guggenheim. Tommy Mole will be aiming for the 880 record. Sophomores and juniors should be prominent also; Rick Elkins in the mile along with Brad Beselick and Sandy Carnigie in field events. With such vast resources Coach Herndon should be able to take the track men to another winning season.

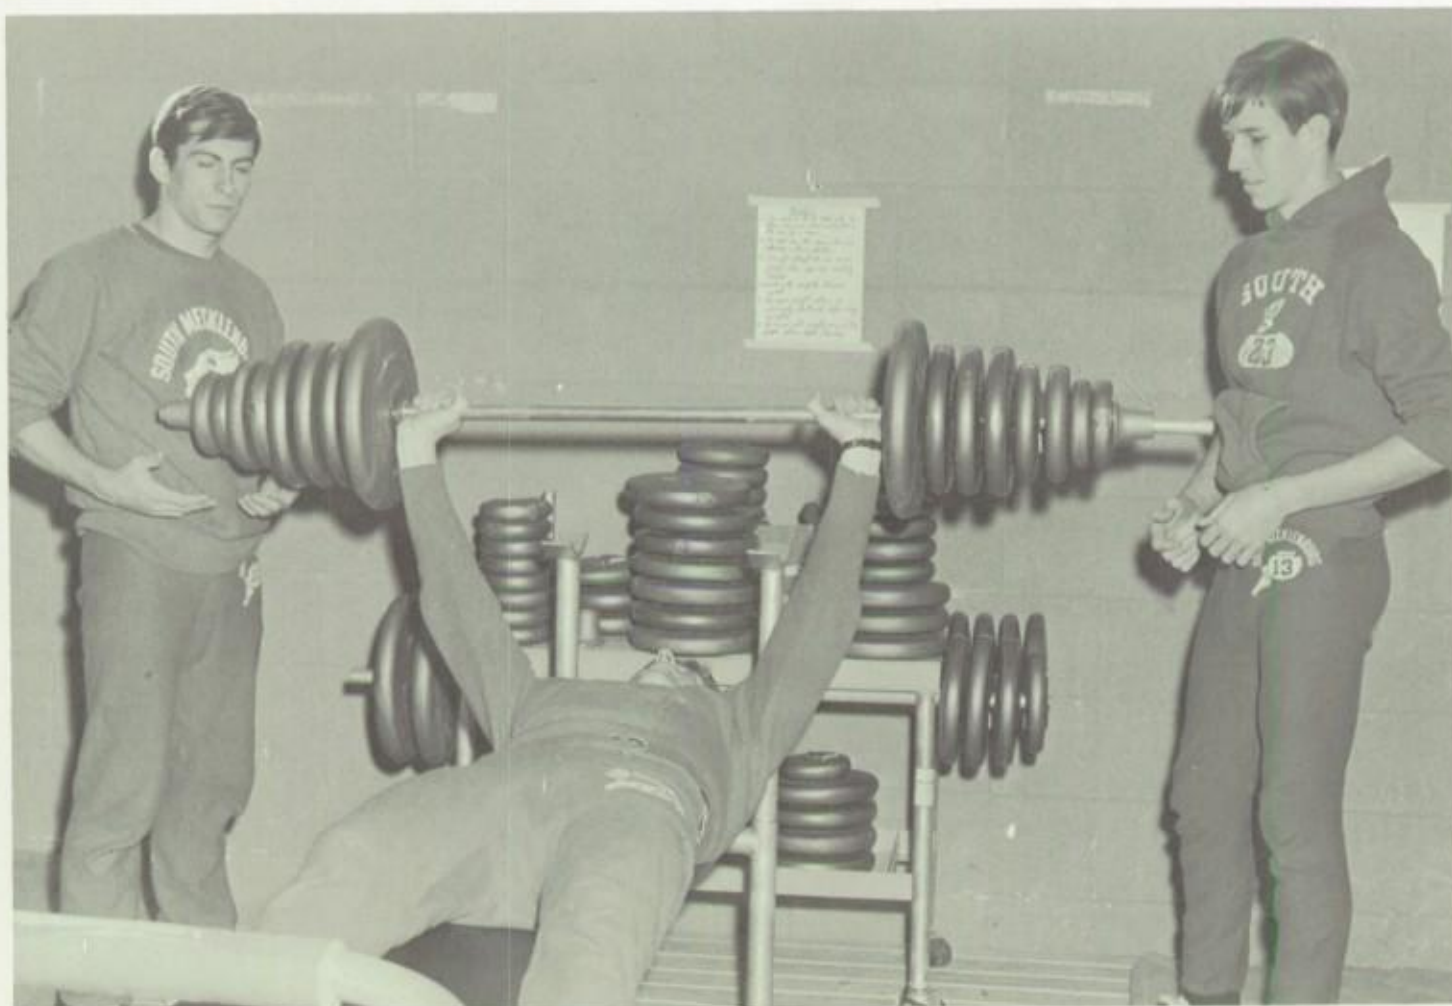

Sprinting up hills increases stamina for 400 meter ace David Shockley.

Tennis team to net victory

'68 Tennis Team

The tennis team enjoys excellent prospects for the upcoming season since five talented netters are returning to play for Coach Kilday. Kirby Jones went to the state play-offs as a junior last year and comes back this year as captain to lead experienced juniors Miles Levin, Duffy Robbins, Milton Martin and Bill Standish. Among the newer members of the squad is Andy Turner who will hopefully be a helpful addition. Last year's young team, now more aged in the ways of the game, should have some of the best seasons in South's history.

Coach Kilday and Captain Kirby Jones look forward to an exceptional season this spring.

Golf team swings

Returning seniors take advantage of a warm spring day to prepare for the coming golf season.

In its bid for the state championship this year, the golf team is led by seniors Andy Ramey, Steve Gillen and Rod Autrey. Returning from last year's team are also two talented juniors — Greg Ledford and George Acker. Under Mr. Garringer's guidance the boys are looking forward to an outstanding year.

Swimmers practice starts in order to cut off invaluable seconds of their time.

Swimming team pools resources

In its second year of existence, the swimming team stroked past its limited capacity of last year. Led by award-winner Robbie Dickson, the team attended the East Carolina Invitational Tournament and finished seventh in a field of twenty-two competing teams. John Dentler, team captain, and Coach Baldwin constantly worked the team at the Y.M.C.A. pool in a sincere effort to provide an outstanding team.

Robbie Dickson continues his assault on the 50 meter backstroke record.

J. V. Sabres overcome the outstretched arms of the defense.

J.V. cagers try harder

J. V. basketball's 5-12 record is hardly indicative of the team's potential. Top scorers were sophomores Jay Pennington and Rusty Kelly with games of 24 and 25 points, respectively. Team co-ordination was aided by co-captains Danny Burns and Mike Dover, and ball-handlers Frank Red and Jack Hobbs. With practice, good coaching, vehement spirit, and more experience, the team will rally to a comeback next year.

J. V. basketball team pauses between shots.

J. V. cagers utilize long-range shooting power.

Sabre cubs look forward to their varsity years.

Even though the junior varsity's emphasis this year was on rebuilding, the sophomore gridders managed to finish with a respectable 6-3 season. Their modest success, under the direction of Coach Price and Coach Herndon and capable co-captains Fudd Hayes and Jimmy Largen, will hopefully carry over into the varsity's coming year. Outstanding assets to the squad were leading scorer Brad Anderson with 27 points, and two energetic ground gainers, Dwight McGarity and Max Erbb.

South's Turner kills Independence drive with a jarring tackle.

Baseball prodigies expect best season yet

J. V. sluggers.

Variety accents J. V. pitching staff.

The J. V. baseball squad has an excellent chance of winning the first trophy offered in the J. V. conference. Many sophomore players are coming from the Smith championship team that had a 12-1 record, along with the Quail Hollow players from a team also high in the standings. Strong pitching from Johnny Morris, Jay Pennington, and Chuck Rodgers, coupled with an exceptionally strong infield and outstanding hitting should yield a number one team.

Teresa Ferrer shares Chilean life with Jenny Franks, her American sister.

Paula and John point out their "Summer homes."

The Charlotte Exchange Student Program had two distinguished participants from South this year, John Beall and Paula Lombardi. The summer after their junior year found John in Santiago, Chile and put Paula in Copenhagen, Denmark, to learn about foreign culture first hand by living with their "summer families".

After careful screening, the families of Robert Shapiro and Libby Edwards were selected to host exchange students to South. Robert shared his home with Bjorn Berggrav from Sandvika, Norway. Bjorn's sparkling wit and friendly disposition vaulted the often imposing language barrier to make Bjorn one of our most popular seniors. Libby Edwards and her family hosted Michelle Picard from Luxembourg. Michelle, always eager to learn, to share her experiences, will be a fond memory for all who knew her.

Coming from John Beall's "home" in Santiago, Chile, Teresa Ferrer spent the first three months of 1968 with Jenny Franks. Teresa's trip was sponsored by International Star Youth in the spirit of international good will.

CESP dissolves cultural boundaries

Paula Lombardi relives her adventures in Copenhagen.

Scientific interest and ambitious intellect motivated five seniors from South to attend a summer program in specialized sciences. Sponsored by the National Science Foundation, the program supplemented facts with explicit explanation, while providing a preparation for work in college. Through exceedingly competitive selection, David Montezinos, Dirk Bittinger, and Bryson Bateman were able to attend Chapel Hill, Jenny Franks to attend Florida State, and David Durham to visit VPI. Both math and science courses were included in the scholastic programs and at the various schools, participants received a brief, but rewarding, sampling of college life.

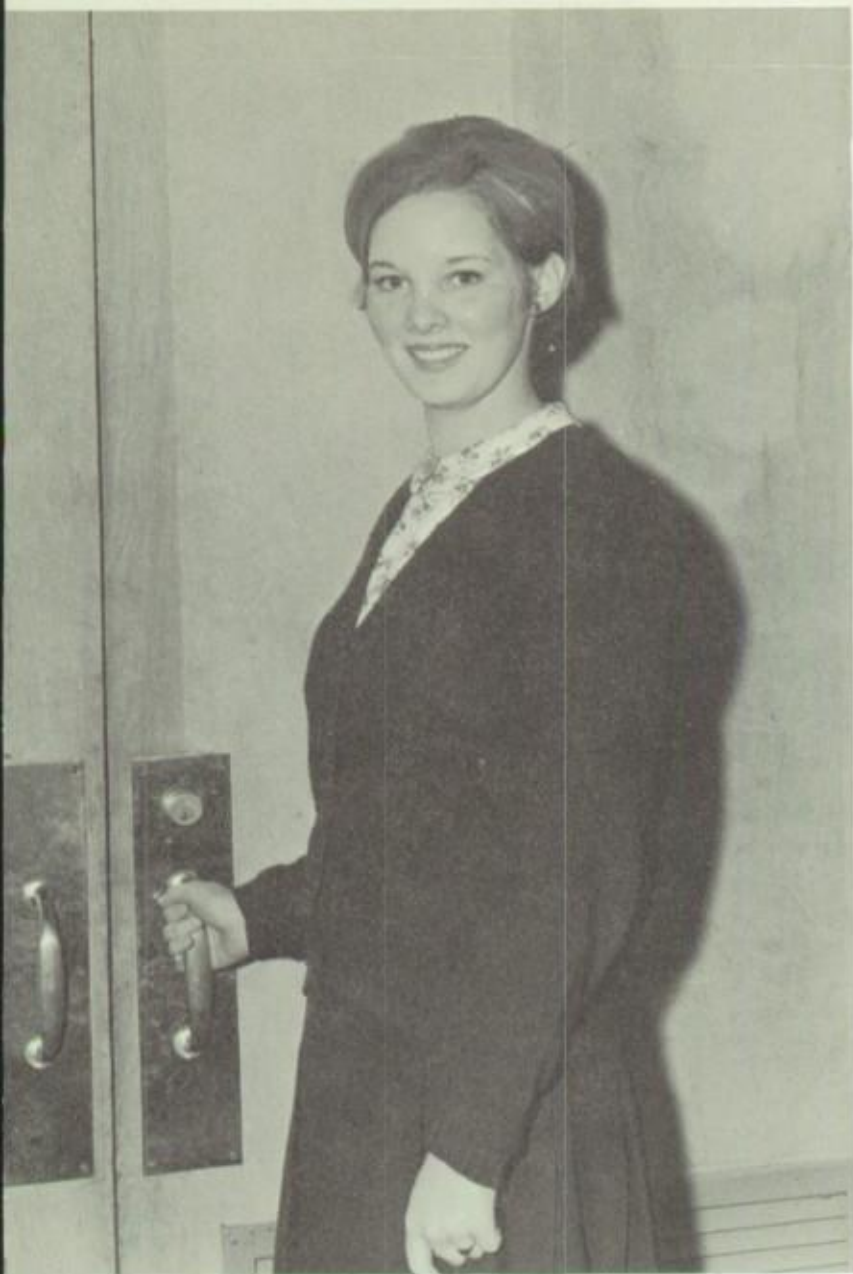

Tar Heel Girls' State, sponsored by the North Carolina American League Auxiliary, is part of a nationwide study in democracy, which meets at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. This year's delegate was Margaret Nelson.

Boys' State, based on studies of American government and history and sponsored by the American Legion, meets at Wake Forest College. Representing South this year were John Renfro and Gary Williams.

Sabres rewarded for varied talents

Last summer, Marsha Brissie was the only South student to attend Salem College campus in Winston-Salem to study violin intensively for seven weeks. The Governor's School of North Carolina is so highly selective that even after Marsha's preliminary acceptance, she was unsure of final acceptance. Marsha confessed that besides the violin study, the experience of independence was well worth the trip.

On the basis of her dependability, service, constructive leadership, and outstanding character, Miss Paula Lombardi was selected by the Senior Class and the faculty to receive the DAR Good Citizen Award for 1968. Miss Lombardi is an exceptional example of the high ideals we, here at South, are proud to honor.

Little Switzerland, North Carolina, housed seniors from throughout the state who were appointed representatives to Wild Acres. After nomination by Mr. Edmisten and careful selection by the Civitan Club, Vicki Geer, Vicky Schlietett, Mike Vaden, and John Dentler attended the conference, which emphasized human relations in today's troubled world. The informative group discussions were supplemented by social activities to provide a well-rounded and profitable experience for these deserving students.

Miss Cynthia Williams glows as 1967 Homecoming Queen

Miss Williams begins her reign with a beaming smile and a bouquet of roses.

Anxious and happy sounds filled the night of October 21 as South's homecoming crowds filled Myers Park Stadium to encourage the Sabres to a 21-12 romp over Brevard and to crown 1967's vivacious homecoming queen, Miss Cynthia Williams. Miss Williams, escorted by Mr. Tom Wicker and sponsored by Mr. Joe Baker, proudly accepted the crown from former queen Miss Barbara Thompson. Halftime festivities featured the music of South's talented marching band, directed by Mr. Rayfield Neel. The band promoted the theme "South High and All That Jazz" by forming a gigantic stereo on the field and playing a medley of popular songs.

After the victory the new queen began her reign by presiding at the reception where triumphant students and excited alumni and teachers danced to the sounds of the Stowaways. The many beautiful young ladies, the resounding victory, and the exceptional music made homecoming night stand out as a highlight of 1967 at South.

Spirits high, students dance to the tune of victory.

Jenny Franks is Miss Somecka for 1968

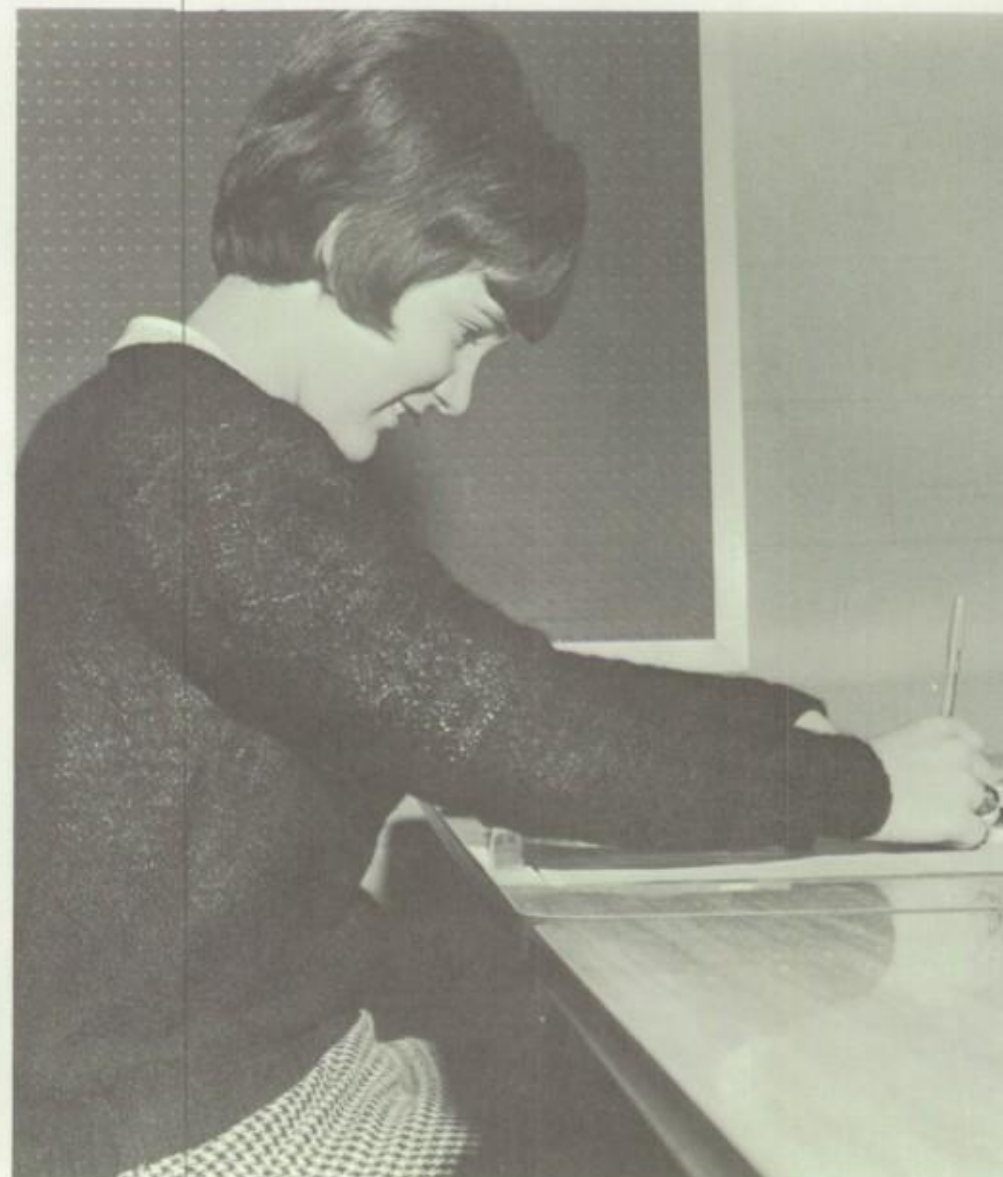

Miss Somecka enjoys reviewing the work of her predecessors.

In any major endeavor requiring a common effort there is always one person who is everywhere at once, helping everyone and still somehow managing to do his own work well. Each year just such a person is chosen by her co-workers to exemplify the hard work and sincere dedication that goes into publishing an annual. Miss Jenny Franks, a constant inspiration to her cohorts, is 1968's Miss Somecka.

Cropping pictures is a tiresome, but necessary, activity that fills much of Jenny's time.

Spring Activities

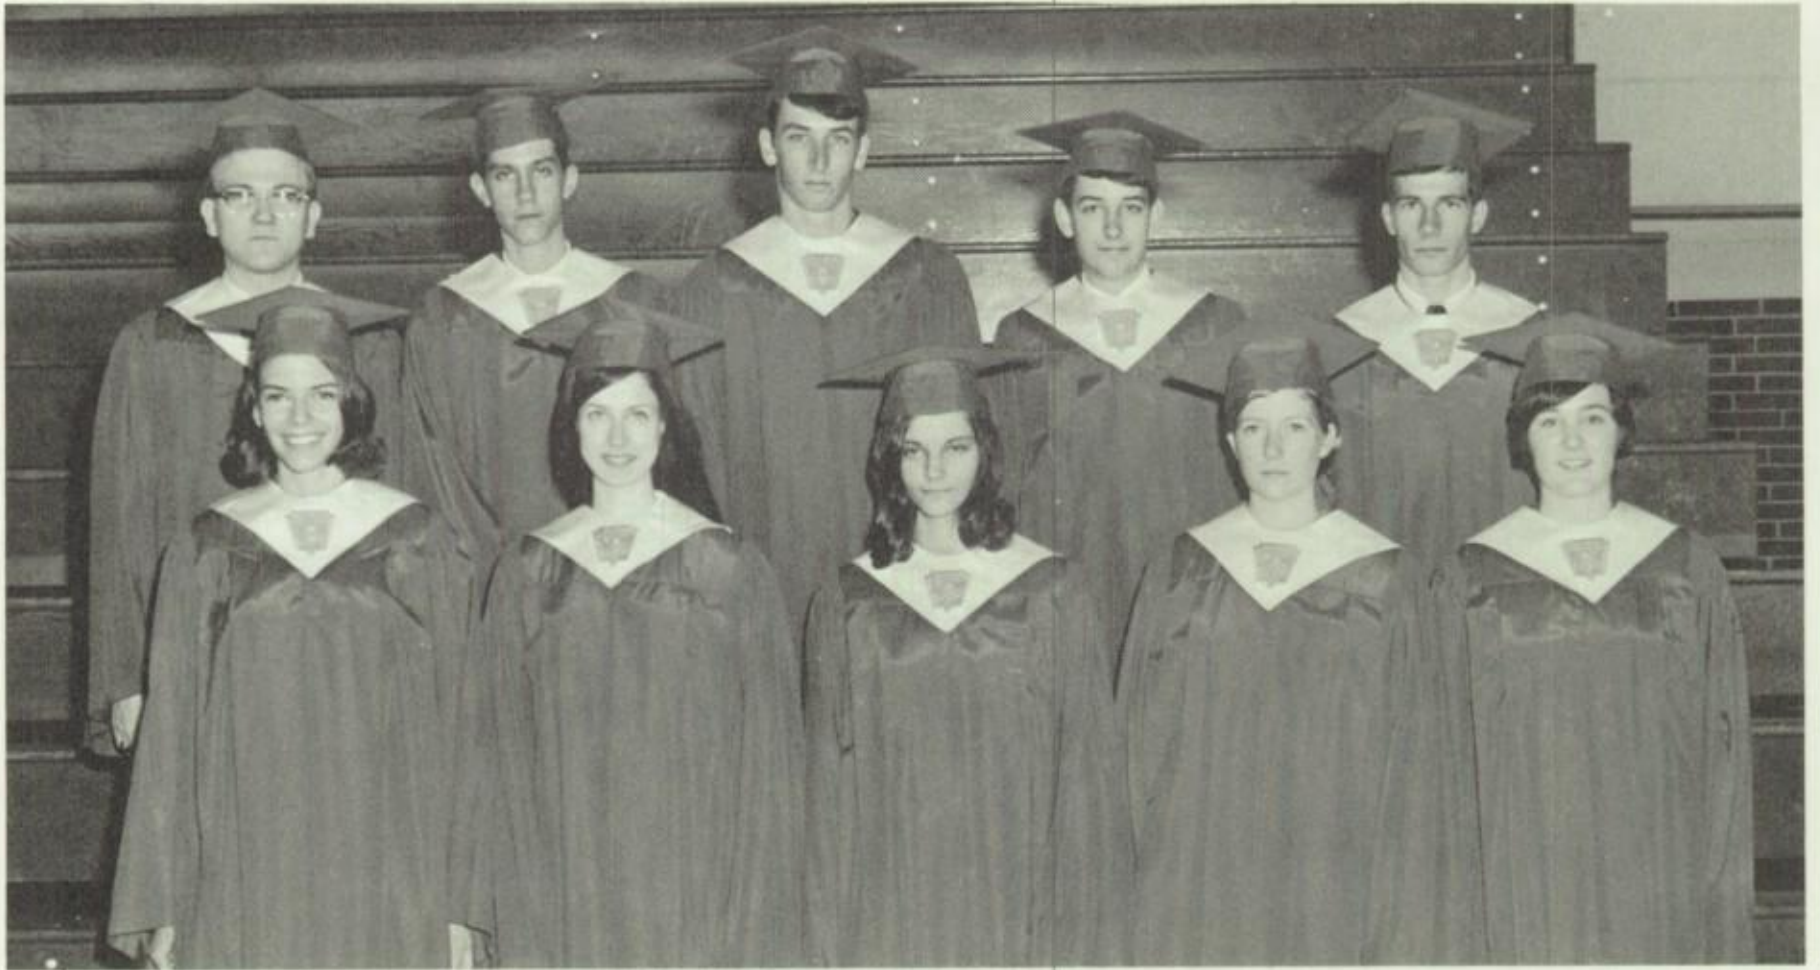

Impatiently, youth implores spring sun and wind
To warm hands winter chilled, to brush away the snow
But time turns slow on schoolroom walls
And hard, black arms still tell—
1:05; fifth period remains, barring restless hearts
From green and blue and happy sounds.
Condemned, to spring afternoons defiled by a teacher's drone
And shoes.
Now young and green, the grass shouts with new freedom
The cry is futile, muffled in the steady hum of mowers Stretching, roaring.
The air is crisp, and blue, and she too cries
And runs and runs, and whines, to carry Voices.

Miss Becky Pickle is this year's winner of the Interact Service Award. Her selection was based on the characteristics of leadership, service and character. Becky is also well-known for her constant effort and indefatigable willingness to serve.

Outstanding service rates recognition

The Interkeys have established an award for the young man who has made the most significant service contribution. The first award is given to Mr. Alan Guggenheim for his diligent work and the high standard of excellence he has set.

Each year the Key Club members, well-acquainted with character and leadership themselves, elect a young lady who best expresses their ideal. Miss Vicki Geer, continues the club's tradition by standing out as a model of personality and intelligence as well as being a hard worker.

One spring evening each year South's upperclassmen leave the realm of teachers, books, and tests to enter the enchanting world of tuxedos and after-parties. Their purpose was creating a memorable send-off for graduating seniors; their destination, the South Seas. Amid the tall palms and beautiful orchids, many juniors received their first look at formal affairs while seniors had a last look at the social life of high school, but everyone enjoyed the night that was, as all Junior-Seniors are, a high point of the year.

Mike Dailey and Miss Ellenburg organize the efforts of the Jr.-Sr. committees.

Diane Paradise and her escort, Ted Troutman, enjoy a chance to try out formal attire.

Mr. and Miss South High

The title of Mr. or Miss South High is the highest honor that can be awarded to any South student. Because Mr. Jeff Langley and Miss Becky Pickle have exemplified South's ideals of leadership, scholarship, citizenship and character, they have been honored with this title.

Pride in achievement culminates in Class Day

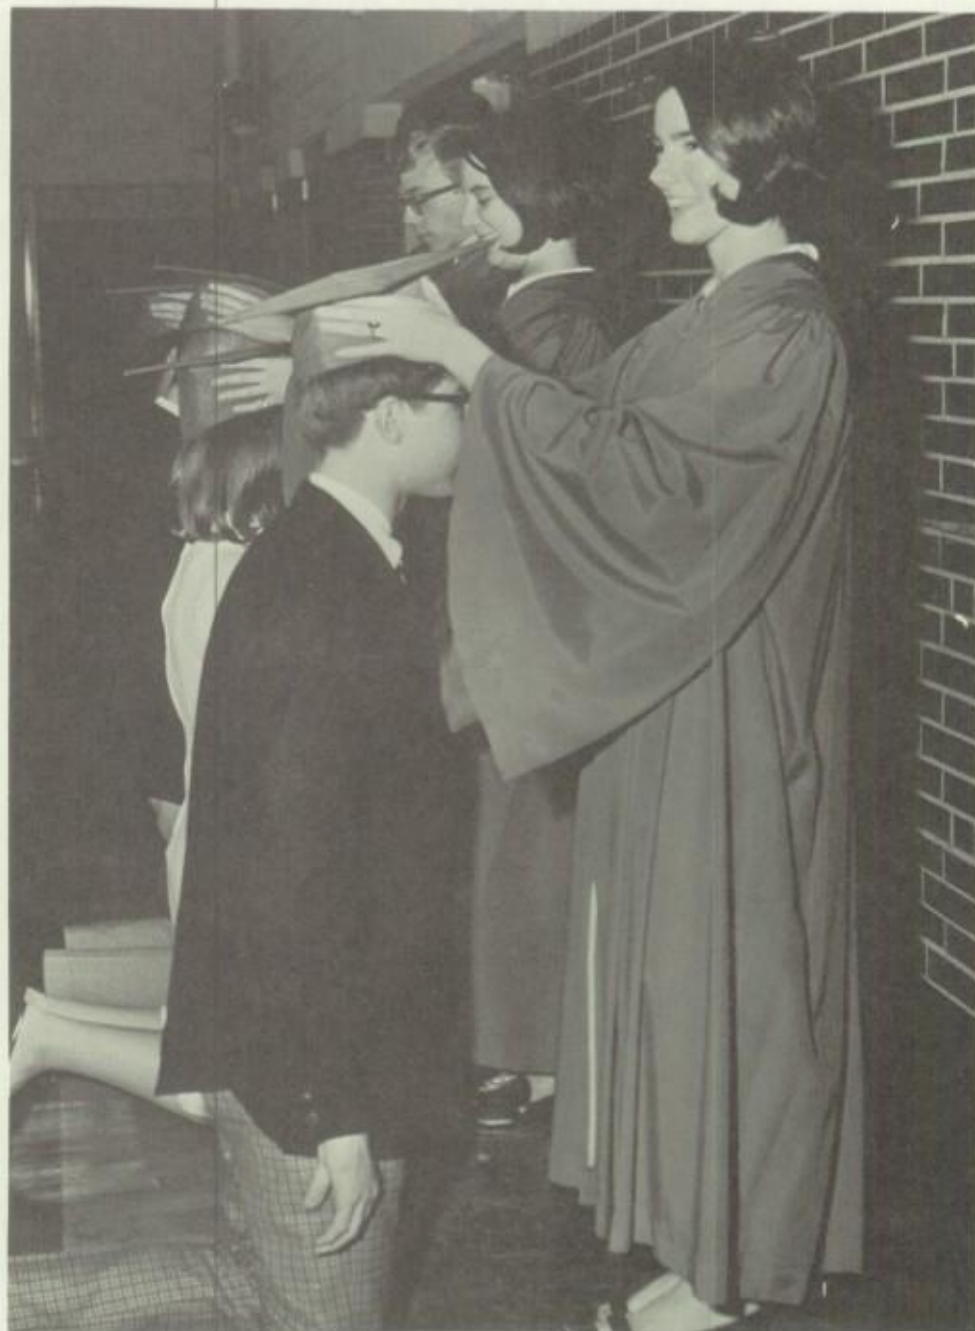

Excitement swells as the seniors march in to the touching sound of "Pomp and Circumstance" and an expectant hush falls over the crowd. As the Last Will and Testament is presented and the Class Prophecy is revealed, these people share their last laughter, their last tears.

For seniors it is a day when trials and tribulations are reconciled.

For juniors it is the day when they acquire their long-awaited title of "Senior".

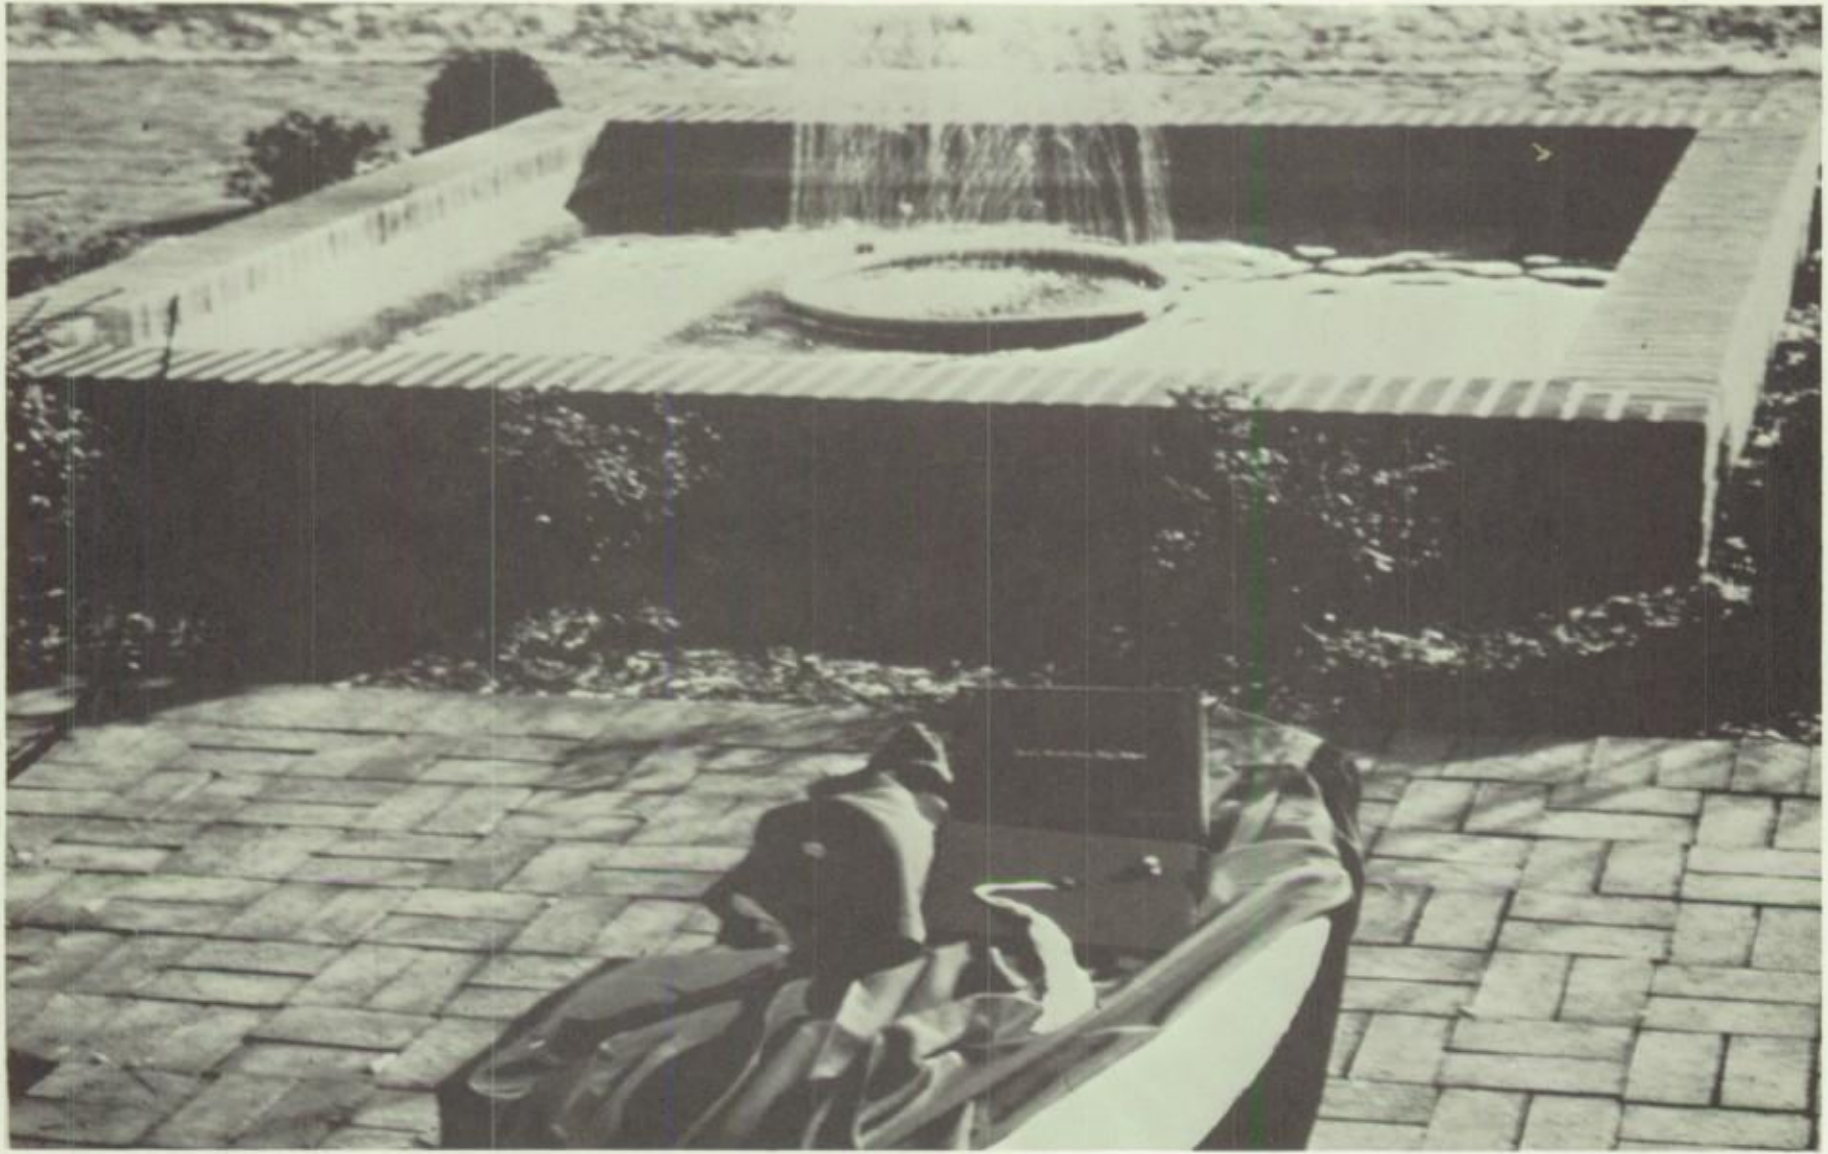

For sophomores it is a day filled with anticipation of two long years ahead.

The year is over.

Seniors file in for their last look at the institution that has been such a large part of their lives.

Graduation rewards twelve years of labor

That one little piece of paper makes it all worth it.

Lizzie Betts participates in the graduation ceremony as her last duty as Senior Class Treasurer.

Graduation is a special event, affecting each senior in a different manner, but among the mixed emotions are always excitement and a sense of accomplishment. Besides the obvious benefits of twelve years of education, there is pride in having endured the process. Too, there is happiness, for graduation is the last step of childhood; all efforts are now those of an adult. There is regret in leaving many friends and in the things that might have been accomplished. There are tears, smiles, and even laughter for the day when a senior says good-bye to an experience that will always deeply influence his life.

When the years have fallen away may this one seem golden.

Today Tomorrow

The hopeless, cluttered mire of things undone
Bids lost moments slow return;
No more, in fond recall, can fickle years appear
To warm a heart or leave a pleasant sigh.

Now buried in the past, until at last,
She lays a rightful claim on all her thankless slaves.

Margaret,
 I'm really getting to know you. It's a lot like those that we lived on the spot that we each though never saw. Well yet never in the years and look after in any of luck will.

Margaret,
It's been great knowing you these past years and seeing you between 6th & 7th periods.
Maybe someday I can figure out that "jibberish" you and Sandy talk about.
I hope we have some classes together next year. You're a sweet girl, stay that way. Love ya,
Donna Allen

Hi MARGARET!

Margaret,

It sure has been fun this year, hasn't it? All the fighting, going to parties, flunking Geometry test, and Biology. Thanks a lot for all the help in Biology & Geometry. When you come to the beach this summer, don't forget to come by & see me.
We sure did have fun going to see that Great movie, didn't we. Too bad we never did get to see you. Maybe we can see more of each other next year (you can take that 2 ways).
Have fun this summer.

Love

Phil Zachary

Well, I saw you this summer! It was fun.

Dear Margaret,
Well, it's been some year. I never really ^{knew} you before now, but I'm awfully glad we got to know each other better.
I remember all the little problems we discussed in Phy. Ed. - very interesting.
I'm gonna have to work on my zitherish this summer and when I come back next year, I'll wow everybody. You've got a great personality and you're great to be around. Keep smiling.
Love ya,
John Nell

Margaret
Is a good little girl ~~is~~ ^{low} has 2 more years to go.
Have fun next in the 11th and have a great summer
I will see you next year
Best of luck
Doug Linn

Margaret,
Well, I haven't known you for very long but it didn't take me long to realize what a fabulous personality you have.
It's been a lot of fun, I hope we can join forces next year and upset some more teachers.
Have ya'
Delia

Margaret,
It's been great knowing you the last five or six years. It has been one of life's great things or what ever knowing you. You've added a lot to the choir and to South. It would have been so dreadful riding to school without your great personality, charm and looks. So keep it that way. Have a wonderful summer and stay just the way you are.

Lots of luck
Russ Baker

Dear Margaret,

Well here I am, signing your good 'ole seneka!
Gosh this year has gone by fast! I'll never forget about all those little messes in P.E. and the talks we had. Whew - some talks &!!! I'm glad we're gotten to be such close friends and I do mean friend 'cause you've been a real one. Its been such fun!! I know you've gotten tired of hearing me gab, but THAT'S LIFE! Hope you have a great summer and stay as cute and as sweet as you are now. Be Good!

Love,

Robin Saunders

P.S. The next time Mr. ^{Robert Haugler} Herndon calls you out to drive -
Be Prepared!!!!!!

Margaret,

It was such a pleasure to re-discover one of my best friends from second grade back in the fall. I enjoyed having French together although I thoroughly dislike French. Also English. I hardly got to talk to you in there. Well, at least we lived through Biology and Mr. Still! I don't know how, but we did it. Next year will be even more fun than this one has been. Just think, only 2 more years of high school. It seems like just yesterday that we came to this dreaded place.
Time does fly! Best of Luck! See you next year!
Saw ya!

Dear Margaret,

How are you. I still remember Tootsie & Theresa who used to play next door. Seems I've lost touch somehow. Sad, isn't it. But wow how you grew! Be good (?) this summer & don't do anything I wouldn't do.
Yours Always, 'til the ocean wears rubbers to keep its bottom dry.

Margaret, I elts been a pleasure for you and I for so many years

P.S. Good Luck with following boy friends.

Hi Margaret!
 To the girl with the adorable dimples & friendly personality!
 It's been a really great year in Gym together!
 I'm up this summer!
 I hope to see ya lots next

Margaret, I've been in any of your classes this year except for gym but those other years add up. Like in 7th grade in Mr. Daniels room; remember those science projects?
 those sex talks. Oh well, have a good summer & keep Phil in line!
 Love ya,

Margaret,

Gee it's been great hanging around with you this year. Worrying about who's mad at who and who likes who, crying on each other's shoulders, oh sigh, I can't believe it's the end of the year. We wait and wait for it, but when it comes it's hard to say good-bye for the summer and in some cases for good. I really hope we can get the gang together this summer for a picnic or something. I have learned a lot about people this year and everyone's been so great to me. Margaret I hope everything works out okay for you, you are really so, gosh what can I say. I really enjoyed having you for a friend this year and I hope to be in some of your classes next year. Be good this summer and think about me sometime, okay? Love,
Carol Bishop

Margaret,

Gee, has this year gone by quick! Wasn't Geometry "fun"? Well, kinda anyway! You're a real sweet girl with a charming personality and I wish you the best of luck. Have loads of fun this summer but be good.
Love!

Margaret -
Habit somethg been absolutely fun (?) this year?!
Sure, sure. And our charming teacher's face really brightened each day. Seriously, it's been great getting to know you this year. Have I hope we have Algebra II together next year. Have a great summer and I'll see you next year.

Best wishes!

Margret,
it's been great knowen ya this year and it's been a 'gas' in English. Be good this summer and don't give the boys to much trouble. Stay as cute and sweet as you are, but don't get into trouble. See ya next year.
